

LOCAL MATTERS.

WEATHER PROBABILITIES.—War Department. Office of the Chief Signal Officer, Washington, D. C., May 15, 1876.—10:30 a. m. In the lower Lvs region and Middle States, falling barometer, warmer easterly to southerly winds, increasing to brisk, and in the former to gales, and increasing cloudiness with rain in the former and southern portion of the latter.

RADICAL COUNTY CONVENTION.—The Radical County Convention met at Harmonie Hall to-day. R. C. Armstrong was elected temporary president and F. L. Van Aiken secretary. A. W. Harris moved the appointment of a committee of one from each ward and district on credentials, and his motion being carried, R. A. Harris, G. Ramsey, Armstrong Webb, Ralph Thompson, Henson Thompson, R. G. Cunningham, and J. R. Bowen were appointed said committee.

The committee reported the following delegates: First Ward, G. L. Seaton, E. Evans, A. Ramsey, Ed. Fry, T. J. Brown, and G. C. Thorpe; alternates, T. L. Taul, Robert Armstrong and G. C. Hewes. Second Ward, H. H. Service, L. Potter, A. Webb, F. E. Corbett, F. L. Van Aiken, and M. Kyer; alternates, Jacob Banks and Nathan Brooks. Third Ward, Fenton Harris, R. C. Armstrong, Judge Williams, James Contee, Rudolph Thompson, Diano Williams, J. McK. Ware, A. B. Crupper, Charles Jackson and Wesley Williams; alternates, James Branch and John Fields. Fourth Ward, E. Hughes, P. R. Evans, O. E. Papeer, R. H. Lyles, Wm. Miller, A. W. Harris, and O. C. Whitley; alternates, J. H. Madella, William Claggett and J. B. Claggett. Fifth Ward, Henson Thompson, M. M. Claggett, Nelson Wormley and H. L. Holme; alternates, J. B. Syphax and H. H. Robinson. Washington District, R. G. Cunningham and G. Vandenberg. Jefferson District, J. R. Bowen, H. Grant and John W. Pendleton; alternates, H. Goldman and Benj. Polard.

A. W. Harris moved that the delegations retire and fill vacancies, which, after some discussion, was carried.

A motion was made to appoint a committee on rules, but it was lost.

The following names were added to the delegations to fill vacancies: 2nd ward, Henry Johnson; 3rd ward, John Fields; Washington District, H. D. Smith. Ed. Hughes moved that permanent officers of the Convention be elected.

R. G. Cunningham moved that the present officers be declared permanent. Carried.

The roll was then called and all of the delegates responded.

R. G. Cunningham moved to nominate a candidate from the House of Delegates, which was lost—yeas 12, nays 22.

Gus Ramsey moved to endorse Col. M. D. Ball for the House of Delegates, but a motion was made to lay it on the table, which was carried.

A. W. Harris again moved to go into a nomination.

J. B. Syphax made a speech, commenting on the proposition to endorse Col. Ball. He also discussed the proposed amendments to the Constitution, making petty larceny and non-payment of the capitation tax a disqualification for voters, and declared that they would disqualify 10,000 colored voters. He claimed that the white people were down on the negroes and that they should not be so quick to endorse Col. Ball until he gave some symptom of giving the colored people their rights.

R. L. Mitchell, wanted to know Col. Ball's sentiments as to the amendments, &c. The question was as to whether the Republicans could elect a straight out ticket, and many thought that they should take anybody to defeat the common enemy.

R. G. Cunningham opposed making a nomination.

Robert Gaines agreed with Mr. Cunningham, and created much merriment by his remarks.

Charles Jackson also favored the endorsement of Col. Ball.

Gus Ramsey advocated Col. Ball's claim and was interrupted by Jno. W. Pendleton, who wanted to know if Col. Ball was here or had a "mouth organ" here.

Ramey: He's got a mouth organ. [Up roarious laughter.]

Pendleton: I want to hear from Col. Ball.

Wm. Miller moved that the motion to make a nomination be laid on the table. Carried.

Wm. Miller offered a resolution declaring it inexpedient to make a nomination.

The resolution was debated by various delegates at great length. A. W. Harris was the last speaker who favored the endorsement of Col. Ball, because he had broken up the Conservative party.

Miller's resolution declaring it inexpedient to make a nomination, was carried.

Thomas L. Tansil moved that the Convention endorse Col. M. D. Ball for the House of Delegates.

This resolution was debated at length by Gaines and Pendleton, the latter of whom wanted to know why Col. Ball had left the Conservatives; there must be something wrong.

R. G. Cunningham did not want to endorse Ball, but wished to adjourn without making a nomination.

Various other delegates debated the subject on the same grounds. After much confusion the motion to lay the resolution endorsing Col. Ball on the table, was lost.

A. W. Harris moved to amend by endorsing Col. Ball as the People's candidate. A lengthy debate ensued amidst much disorder. The previous question was then called for, and on a division the resolution endorsing Col. M. D. Ball was carried—yeas 28, nays 8.

The Convention then adjourned.

EPISCOPAL VISITATION.—Rev. James Gibbons, Bishop of the Diocese of Richmond, made his Episcopal visitation to St. Mary's Church, in this city, yesterday. The Bishop said Mass at 7 o'clock, during which a large number of children made their First Communion. After the Mass, the Bishop having retired himself with the cope, wearing his mitre upon his head and bearing the crozier, seated himself before the altar, and the candidates for Confirmation advanced and knelt before him and received the Sacrament of the confirmation. There were twenty-nine males, of whom three were white adults and two colored adults; and fifty-nine females, of whom eighteen were white adults and one colored adult. The sponsors for the males were Messrs. John R. Bacon and S. B. Stentonburg, and for the females Mrs. C. L. Carne and Mrs. Mary Powers. Both before and after Confirmation the Bishop addressed the congregation, exhorting them to be steadfast in their faith, and to show it forth in their actions. He warned the boys against the bad habits to which their sex was peculiarly exposed, such as untruthfulness, swearing, &c. The little girls, among those confirmed, as well as some of the young ladies, were tastefully dressed in white, with wreaths of flowers upon their heads. At the eleven o'clock Mass, Bishop Gibbons preached, taking his text from the 13th verse of the 16th chapter of St. John's Gospel, "When He, the Spirit of truth, is come, He will guide you into all truth." The Bishop proceeded, at length, to depict the mission of the Catholic Church as inspired by the Holy Ghost. Many passages of the sermon were very eloquent and pleasing. He alluded, during his sermon, to the celebration of the American Centennial, and expressed the hope that the Republic might survive to celebrate many more such occasions. He also alluded to the growth of the Catholic Church in America during the present century, from one diocese with its few small chapels and a few thousand Catholics scattered over the whole country, to the Church of the present day, with sixty-seven dioceses, numbering millions of souls. All this, he said, he trusted as a proof of the advantage to the growth of Catholicism, of a free government. At 5 o'clock, in the afternoon, the choir were assisted by Messrs. Hoaglin and Fry of St. John's Church, in Washington, the former of whom sang the hymn "Ave Maria" with much force and beauty.

GAME LAW.—The last session of the Maryland Legislature passed a new game law for Prince George's county, which will no doubt prove of interest to the gunners from this city who have heretofore hunted in the marshes and creeks on the opposite side of the river. The law provides that no residents shall hunt, shoot, kill, destroy, or in any way trap any birds within the limits of Anne Arundel and Prince George's counties at any season of the year without permission of the owner of the land or marsh, upon which said non-residents may hunt. The time for shooting ordinals is between the 15th of September and the 1st of November; for partridges between the 20th of October and the 20th of December. The law fixes a heavy penalty for each and every offense.

POLICE REPORT.—The following cases have been tried since last report:

Walter Eastley, alias Welch, colored, for disorderly conduct; was fined and discharged.

J. S. Williams, a sailor, for derelicting his vessel, was released on paying costs and promising to go on board.

Jennie White and Molly Summers, both colored, for disorderly conduct at Fishman, were fined and discharged.

Two young white men, for resisting and assaulting Officer Purcell, whilst in the discharge of his duty, were fined $10 each and discharged.

One lodger Saturday night and none last night.

GONE TO THE MAD STONE.—A mad dog made its appearance at the residence of Mr. William Taylor, near Falls Church, on Saturday evening last, and before it could be driven away by every living thing that came in its way, including Mr. Taylor, his wife and his adopted daughter. It then went towards an adjoining farm, where, it is reported, it was snapping at and biting everything it came across. Mr. Taylor, his wife, and the little girl, arrived here yesterday, and this morning took the train for Reston, for the purpose of having a mad stone, that is owned by parties in that town, applied to their wounds.

LOST OVERBOARD.—The schooner Batus, which arrived at Washington Friday last from the lower shores of Maryland, reports that, during the gale on the 10th instant, while the schooner was off Point Lookout, one of the hands, Sam Richards, was lost overboard. While giving the sail, the main boom caught the man and carried him off the deck. The man was seen swimming for some time, but the gale was so strong that he could not be rescued, and he has not been heard from since. Richards was a white man, hailing from Massachusetts, and shipped for the trip.

ODD FELLOWS' ADDRESS.—The Hon. Hugh Latham, of Alexandria, Va., Grand Representative of the Grand Lodge of the State of Virginia to the Grand Lodge of the United States, delivered a most interesting, eloquent and impressive address before the members of that order, in our city, last evening, at their hall, on Middle street. The subject of the discourse, the benefits of Old Fellowship to society, was handled in a most masterly manner, and elicited the distinguished orator appeared before a more attentive or appreciative audience.—Alexandria Virginian.

BASE BALL.—A match game of base ball was played at the Episcopal High School on Saturday between the third nine of the "H. W. Club" of that school, and the Cadet Club of St. John's Academy, and was won by the former by a score of 51 to 28. The Cadets were handsomely entertained by the Howard Club after the conclusion of the game.

The Independents of this city went out this afternoon to play the Howard's game, the result of which will be published to-morrow.

PRINCE WILLIAM COURT.—During the session of the Circuit Court of Prince William county last week, indictments were found against the bogus newspaper agent recently arrested in that county; also against two men named L. W. and McIntyre for disturbing religious worship. In the case of D. F. Hoos's ad'ur, vs. Hugh Hammell, there was a non-suit and release of damages.

FISH REPORT.—Since Saturday's report there have been received at Fishman about 7,500 shad and 200,000 herrings, a considerable increase over former receipts. Shad sold at from $16 to $18 per hundred, and herrings from $11 to $15 per thousand. A number of surgeons have also been received, which sold from $1.50 to $3.00 a piece, as to size.

THE CHURCHES YESTERDAY.—All of the churches yesterday were well attended. With the exception of St. Mary's Church, where Bishop Gibbons preached in the morning; the M. E. Church, where Rev. Dr. Hemenway preached in the morning, and the Baptist Church, where no services were held, the pulpits were filled by the resident clergy.

Y. M. C. A.—The first open-air meeting on Naylor's Hill, for the season, was held yesterday evening; the second service at the Tunnel was held simultaneously. At both meetings there was a full corps of workers, and large and interested gatherings. The exercises were fully sustained. All the other activities of the Society were held with interest and effect.

IMPROVING.—Justice Ben Austin, of Arlington, Va., who had his leg broken in two places some weeks since, is getting along nicely at the residence of his brother, in Washington. It will be many months, however, before the Squire will be able to tread his native heath again.

CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 15, 1876.—The Senate was engaged, during the first half hour of its session, in the reception of resolutions, &c.

Mr. Withers, of Virginia, presented the following:

Joint resolution of the General Assembly of Virginia, asking that the cotton tax be refunded. Referred.

Joint resolution of the General Assembly of Virginia, asking an appropriation for the construction of fishways at the Great Falls of the Potomac. Referred.

Mr. Withers introduced a resolution, which was agreed to, providing that H. Edsall, of Henrico county, Va., be allowed to withdraw his memorial and accompanying papers from the files of the Senate.

The Senate then resolved itself into a Court of Impeachment, and ordered that the galleries be cleared, the doors closed, and the proceedings be conducted in secret. Nine members, including Mr. Withers, of Va., voted against this resolution. The doors were then closed.

In the House of Representatives, after the call of States for resolutions of a private character, some of which came from Virginia, the unfinished business of last Monday was taken up, being the consideration of resolutions laid over, and several were passed, among them, a resolution directing the Secretary of the Treasury to report upon the expediency of transferring the Internal Revenue bureau to that of Customs.

A resolution calling upon the President for information as to the dismissal of Mr. Henderson, of Missouri, as counsel of the U. S. in the prosecution of the whisky fraud cases at St. Louis was introduced.

A resolution calling upon the Secretary of the Treasury for copies of all letters, telegrams, &c., relative to the prosecution of the "whisky" at St. Louis, was strenuously opposed by the Radicals, who tried to save off its consideration by various means, and finally called the yeas and nays, the vote resulting in the passage of the resolution by yeas 141, nays 69.

The morning hour having expired, a resolution was introduced by Mr. Payne, of Ohio, authorizing the issue, by the Secretary of the Treasury, of $10,000,000 of silver coin, in lieu of that amount of legal tenders, the said legal tenders to be retained for the retirement of so much fractional currency which will be destroyed, but the House refused—yeas, 133; nays, 73; (not two-thirds) to suspend the rules and pass the resolution.

The bill admitting free of duty the Sherman-Fitch jewels was passed.

A resolution expressing confidence in the Secretary of the Treasury in his conduct of the prosecution of the "whisky ring" was introduced, but the hour of two having arrived, the House took no action, and proceeded to the consideration of District of Columbia business.

PLATT VS. GOODE.

The argument in this case was closed to-day before the Election Committee of the House of Representatives, by speeches of thirty minutes' duration, each, by Messrs. Goode and Platt, after which the case was submitted to the Committee.

THE DOORKEEPER.

A meeting of the Committee on Rules of the House was called this morning, but there was no quorum, and an adjournment took place until to-morrow at 7 o'clock, when the resolution in reference to Mr. Fitzhugh, Doorkeeper, will be considered and acted upon.

Mr. Fitzhugh is on the floor to-day, and while looking somewhat dejected, is attending to his duties as usual. It is said that he will make a compromise, and ask pardon for his letter, but such a course can hardly save him. There are, of course, any number of applicants for the position, among them Mr. Patterson, of New Jersey; Archer, of Maryland; Baker, of Tennessee; and Wedderburn, of Washington.

BURSTOW VS. BLAINE ON THE BOND BUSINESS.

The Blaine-Stewart bond matter, which Hon. A. G. Riddle has put in a new light, is now attracting much attention, and it is now said that Blaine is preparing an answer, which will show that though the hand is the hand of Riddle, the voice is the voice of Blaine. Joseph B. Stewart, who, it is said, paid the bonds to Blaine, is well known in Alexandria. He will be recalled as the giant who used to rule the Alexandria and Fredericksburg Railroad in the days when the community of Alexandria was just settling down after the war. The Judiciary Committee, to whom the charges in Blaine's case had been referred, had given them the go-by heretofore, but to-day the subject was taken up by that committee in earnest, and a number of witnesses examined.
